LCA results: Total release of 2.7 kg CO₂-equivalents per kg

According to the result from an attributional life cycle assessment (LCA) the release of greenhouse gases from cradle to grave corresponds to 2.7 kg of CO₂ per kg of Maple pecan (GWP₁₀₀).

This climate declaration encompasses all steps from farmland to table including cereal cultivation, production of other ingredients, processing, production of packaging, storage, baking in store in UK and waste management, and transports between all of these points.

The results are conducted according to ISO 14025, and the complete report behind the figures is available from Lantmännen Unibake.

The orange and yellow pillars in the diagram represent the so called Upstream and Downstream modules where Unibake has less possibility to have impact on the results. The green pillars represent the Core module where Unibake has big influence on the result.
